The weathered brick, the iron and wooden fences and the blinding white of the homes is a sight to behold and the only problem for the photographer is the decision as to what angle is the most attractive. If the walker follows the first impression made from the ferry deck, he will arrive at the scene on our cover. Nantucket is laced with narrow lanes that take you off the main street and end in someone's backyard. They don't continue. They are just a way to get to the house but each has a pretty wall or fence and most are laden with flowering shrubs or roses. We went down the lane to take the cover photo because it made such an attractive base for the photo of the church tower.

This church was erected in the year 1809. It was remodeled in 1832-34 when the trompe l'oeil interior was painted by Carl Wendte. In 1971 the church was placed on the National Register of Historic Places. Darla Olson completed a two year restoration of the interior in the years 1984 to 1986 so that now the interior is just as it was at its peak. As a bonus, during the structural work of the restoration, the sky-

"Beacon" Developers Seek Comprehensive Permit

NOVEMBER 22, 1988-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Selectmen last Tuesday accepted the final report on the Pleasant Street Development Corporation as proposed developers of The Beacon project off Park Street from Harvey Blanchette, Chairman of the Mattapoissett Housing Partnership Committee. "Because we have reached an impasse with the developers on its proposed affordable homeownership development, we expect Mr. Paul Cusson, President, to be filing for a Comprehensive Permit with the Mattapoissett Zoning Board of Appeals prior to December 6th", said Mr. Blanchette.

Selectmen Chairman William F. Hubbard thanked Mr. Blanchette for the countless hours he and his committee have spent. "You've been more than fair with the developers; I know it's been time consuming. We concur with your results", the Chairman said. Mr. Blanchette noted he has spent about 800 hours on the project.

In his report to the Selectmen, Mr. Blanchette said, "We do not know exactly what plan Pleasant Street Development will file with the Zoning Board of Appeals, and there is no requirement that it be the same proposal he has been discussing with the Housing Partnership Committee."

our own analyses indicate that there are probably several major costs that could be tightened up. We have never seen a convincing budget from Pleasant Street Corp."

Mr. Blanchette continued, "This process has been going on for months. The impasse was reached on November 17 in a working session over the latest revised plan. Although Pleasant Street submitted the most acceptable building designs we have seen to date, the plan was for 49 units versus our request for 30 units. We are at the end of our rope and do not feel this negotiating process will result in a final proposal prepared by a true 'partnership' between the developer and our committee. We are disappointed that all our work to date has not produced more positive results. Hopefully, some good will be achieved by the Zoning Board and other Town Boards during the Comprehensive Permit process."

Mr. Blanchette added, "The Partnership Committee is tired, but we are not giving up on the benefits of affordable housing for the people of Mattapoisett. We have more irons in the fire -- including interest from both landowners and other developers. I hope to be reporting more encouraging news in the not too distant future."

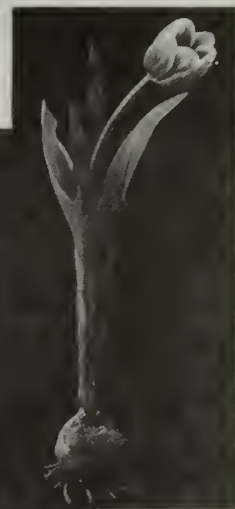

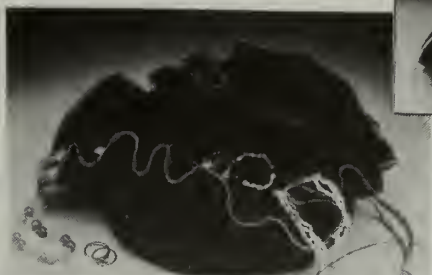

Under State Law the Comprehensive Permit allows for the development of subsidized low or moderate income housing. These permits are granted on a case-by-case basis by local Zoning Boards following a public hearing, and may allow housing construction at greater density than allowed by local zoning. If the town has less than 10 percent of its housing designated for low or moderate income housing, a developer may appeal the local Zoning Board's unfavorable decision to the State Housing Appeals Committee.

AGREED with the Building Inspector's recommendation that A.C. powered smoke detectors be installed in all residential and commercial additions and renovations, and heat detectors be installed in all attached garages.

The battery operated heat detectors and/or hardwired units will be strongly requested, but not required, in detached garages.

The Inspector said at the present time wire operated detectors are required in all new construction, but the Fire Chief and the Inspector recommend these wired detectors be placed in renovations.

Selectmen agreed they should go on the recommendations of the Fire Chief and Building Inspector.

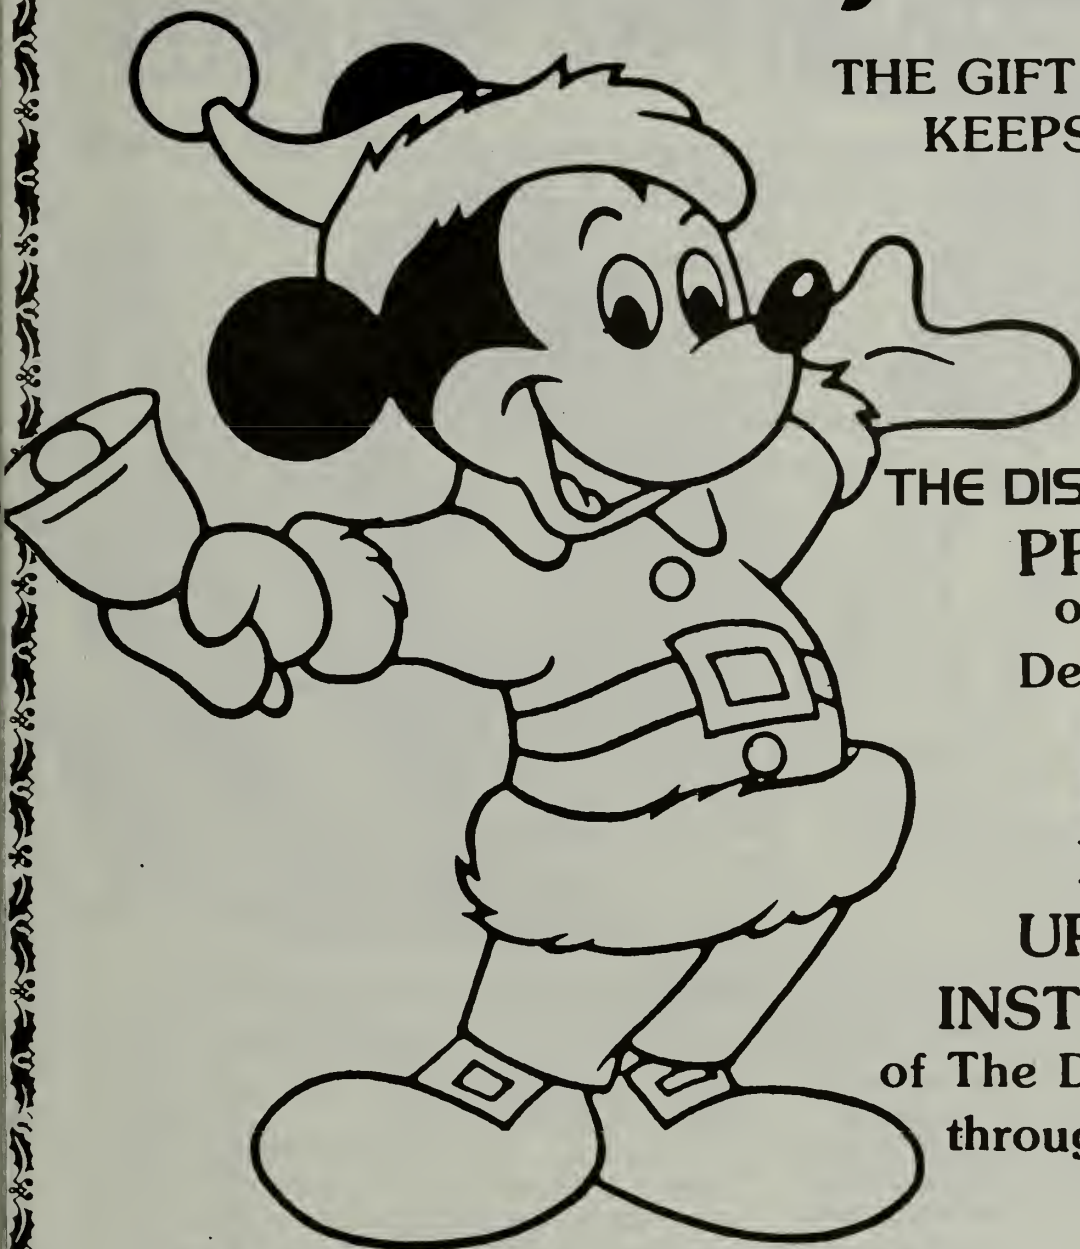

RECEIVED A COPY OF A LETTER sent by Tighe and Bond consulting engineer Ron Michalski to the State DEQE regarding the sanitary landfill.

"The Mattapoisett Board of Health is working to resolve existing and future sanitary landfill operating concerns. Mattapoisett has not developed Closure Plans or corrected existing landfill side slope concerns for several reasons. 1) The Board of Health has been waiting for DEQE comments to an August 1988 Board of Health letter to DEQE that summarized landfill work efforts discussed and generally agreed to during a July 1988 meeting. DEQE comments have been delayed because of its staff limitations in the last summer and early Fall of 1988. 2) Since August 1988 the Mattapoisett Board of Health has been actively trying to address landfill closure and side slope problems. Mattapoisett applied to DEQE for a Landfill Capping Grant. To date, DEQE has not published a grant priority list. Mattapoisett remains op-

"The fourth plan of the Health Board was discussed with SEMASS Resource Recovery Facility, a contract to pursue closure of the Mattapoisett Phase I and Phase II sanitary landfill areas. Most of us groan when we see our children's handprints decorating walls and furniture. Wouldn't it be nice, though, to have a permanent record of those little hands (and baby feet), one that didn't have to be washed away?

We will take your tykes, paint their hands in the colors of your choice and print them all over the aprons. These are "splatter-painted" and ironed to make the prints indelible. The eye talk

Q. I've heard there is a new type of surgery to cure nearsightedness.

Does it work? Is it safe?

A. The surgical procedure being touted as a cure for nearsightedness is called radial keratotomy. It is still in the experimental stages.

It involves making 8 to 16 freehand cuts in the outside surface of the eye to flatten it and thus reduce nearsightedness. There is no way to predict accurately what the results will be.

Studies show some people, usually the mildly nearsighted, do achieve near normal vision. Others do not and must still wear glasses. Some are overcorrected and become farsighted. Still others have vision that fluctuates. Increased sensitivity to glare seems to be a side effect.

There are risks of infection, corneal scarring and damage to the eye's optical zone. Long-term complications are not known. Until the long-term effects of radial keratotomy are known, you would be wise to ask your optometrist about daily - and extended- wear contact lenses. They are a safe alternative.

Road. The permit allows for demolishing the existing three structures and to construct a new multi-family dwelling containing four dwelling units. A similar Variance was granted on April 27, 1988 but lapsed when no action was taken by the owner. The Special Permit granted at that time remains in full force and effect; however, a variance is now granted because of the limited access to the property and frontage is less than required.

The Board felt owing to the circumstances relating to the shape of the land and its limited frontage on Fairhaven Road, and that the change will not affect the General Business District, it would involve a substantial hardship on the owner without the variance. The existing dwellings, three detached single-family dwellings, are poorly constructed and are currently in poor condition.

Among the Special Permits granted, Jarvis C. and Gladys Stratton, 62 Marion Road relating to property at that address, are permitted to change the use from four business units to five business units, subject to several conditions and safeguards. No alterations will be made to the building.

The Board felt the location of the building's septic system to the west of the building is one concern with the lack of a permanent and fixed barrier to prevent vehicles from traveling over the septic system. The Board asks the Board of Health to review this concern. The second concern is the dangerous traffic problem arising out of motor vehicles entering the premises from Marion Road and leaving

The second Special Permit was granted to John D. Langlois, Inc., 62 Fairhaven Road relating to property at that address. This permit is an amendment to a prior decision on September 29, 1988 for construction of buildings and use of the rear portion of the applicant's property for marine industry use. The specific use permitted was a boatyard business, consisting of hauling boats to and from the premises, storing boats and repairing boats.

This amendment is granted to allow for construction of buildings and use of the premises for a boat storage business on the rear portion of the property. The applicant proposes to make use of an existing small 8 foot by 8 foot block house structure located on the rear portion of the property. The front portion bounded on the north by Fairhaven Road is occupied by an automobile service station business and a meat market.

The applicant proposes the construction of two 30 foot by 32 foot and four 30 foot by 64 foot quonset-hut or greenhouse type structures. The buildings will be 14 feet high and covered by a sunscreen plastic skin. They will be 9,600 square feet, and will meet the applicable setback. The combination of the existing and proposed building footprints will also meet the 25 percent structural coverage limitation of the lot.

The specific business of boat storage will also include hauling boats to and from the premises, storage under cover and routine repairs and maintenance by boat owners. Southeastern Boathouse, Inc., the proposed tenant, will do no repair work on the premises; however, a boat owner may perform routine repairs and maintenance.

Several conditions and safeguards have been placed on the permit: The quonset-hut or greenhouse is to be erected on an asphalt or blue stone-type surface, and may be placed on foundations to elevate them and must meet all applicable provisions of the building code; during paint scraping sessions by boat owners, suitable groundcovers shall be laid and the scrapings collected. Adequate disposal of these and other hazardous materials shall be in approved receptacles and storage in conformity with the law; no major repairs to boats shall be conducted by anyone. Southeastern Boathouse shall maintain the premises and no boat repairs shall be conducted by the company or its employees; hours of operation shall be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week; no more than 20 boats on the premises at one time; natural screening on the south and east sides; no selling of boats on the premises; the hauling to and from the premises shall comply with Commonwealth Electric Company regulations and shall be accomplished by Brownell Boatworks, or similarly qualified boat movers. The trailering of boats is prohibited from the access on the west side of the service station garage, as that area is part of ComElectric Company's easement area; total cumulative area for all signs for the owner and tenants shall be no more than 32 square feet.

to property at 119 Fairhaven Road for the use of an automobile repair business, an exceptional use in the General Business District.

It is proposed that John Lemieux, doing business as "The Village Tinker Shop", occupy a portion of the applicant's property to conduct an automobile repair business. Mr. Lemieux appeared at the public hearing on behalf of the applicant.

The permit allows for rebuilding motors, restoring bodies, welding and paint spraying. He proposes to clean up and improve the premises and garage. He will have no employees and will do the repairs himself on a part-time basis to try to build up the business.

Among the conditions and safeguards are: hours of operation will be 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. six days a week, Monday through Saturday; no parking of motor vehicles on lot fronting Fairhaven Road; all parking will be on the lot northerly of the stockade fence; repairs will be performed principally inside the garage; the existing fences will be maintained.

The fourth Special Permit was granted to Russell L. Bailey, 61 Ocean Drive relating to property at 18 Grand View Avenue for alterations and a garage to an existing non-conforming structure, a single family dwelling in the waterfront district.

The applicant proposes to alter the structure by expanding the existing living room and adding a new dining room to the east, by adding a new master bedroom and utility room to the south, and by adding decks to the east and south. No one appeared in opposition to the application at the public hearing. The lot fails to meet the applicable 25 foot street setback requirement from Grand View Avenue; however, the Board found the proposed alterations would not be more detrimental than existing non-conforming structures to the character of the waterfront district in which the property is situated.

pay for the merchandise or return it?

A. No. If you are sent clothing, cookware, linens, office supplies, or any other merchandise that you did not order, you have a legal right to keep the shipment as a free gift.

Q. If I keep unordered merchandise for free, must I notify the seller?

A. While you have no legal obligation to do so, sending a letter stating your intention to keep the shipment as a free gift is an advisable precaution. This will discourage the seller from sending you repeated bills or it may help to clear up an honest error.

Q. Is there any merchandise that may be sent legally without my consent?

Christmas revelry was not a part of the lives of the early Plymouth settlers and, until now, not a part of the modern visitor's experience at Plimoth Plantation.

This year the Plantation will recreate the Christmas tradition of "Merrie Old England" with songs, storytelling, games, craft demonstrations and feasting during the first two weekends in December.

Holiday visitors may enjoy the sampling of authentic 17th century fare including such "receipts" as pork pasty, mincemeat pie, pear and cheese tarts, apples and onions and buttered ryce. Entertainment

Tobey's "Lifeline" on Bay 8

Tobey Hospital's December Cable Television Show will demonstrate LIFELINE, the emergency response system. The show airs at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 6th, on the Bay 8 Channel.

During this holiday season, learn how you can protect your loved ones by giving the "gift of independence". For the elderly, the handicapped, and others with special medical problems Lifeline means being able to live alone and maintain independence. Lifeline gives subscribers, and their families, the reassurance of knowing that help can be quickly summoned with the touch of a button. One local family says Lifeline is "...an Extra Guardian Angel" for their mother.

On the show, Tobey's Director of Social Services Karen Marshall and Lifeline Co-ordinator Kathy Majka will talk about the advantages of the program and its costs, and demonstrate its use. Immediately following a taped portion, viewers will be invited to call with questions and comments during a live, call-in segment.

The lathe will provide state-of-the-art training opportunities for all Machine Shop students and will also provide the Machine Shop with updated equipment.

A careful evaluation of the Machine Shop indicated the need to upgrade equipment and add the type of equipment that Old Colony students will encounter when seeking employment. Old Colony's Machine Shop Advisory Committee fully endorsed the equipment update project.

STUDENTS ATTEND BCC CLASSES

Recently Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School joined together with Bristol Community College in offering Old Colony students a college course on the campus. The project attracted six Old Colony students who attend class at BCC once a week.

The one course that is offered for the current semester is Math 07. Math 07 is a second course in algebra, including first degree equations in one variable, factoring, problem solving, operation with fractions, ratio, and operations with polynomials.

Students must supply their own transportation but Old Colony is picking up the tab for tuition and books through a Federal grant that is available to the school.

The purpose of the project is to acquaint Old Colony students with a college setting so a smooth transition may be made from high school to college.

Attending the course are Bruce Bachand, Robert Batchman, Scott Bindas, Krista Brassill, Patricia Franks and Cindy Tucker.

Financial Aid Night, ORR

BARK EAGLE'S CAPTAIN TO SPEAK

On Thursday, December 15th, at 8 p.m. Captain Ernst M. Cummings will give an illustrated talk at the New Bedford Whaling Museum theater on the topic, "EAGLE's Voyage to Australia". This Helen Cook Memorial Program is an addition to the Museum's Fall Lecture series and is open to the public. Admission is $5.00 for non-members; museum members will be admitted free.

In 1987 Captain Cummings and the crew of EAGLE set sail for Sydney to represent the United States at Australia's bicentennial celebration. The voyage was EAGLE's longest cruise - lasting eight months and covering more than 32,000 miles.

The voyage provided an opportunity to train approximately 175 Coast Guard cadets in leadership, seamanship, navigation and international relations. The cruise included international visits to Ecuador, Tahiti, Society Islands, American Samoa, Tonga, Galapagos, Mexico, and Panama.

Captain Cummings is well-known in New Bedford. He brought EAGLE here for the ful and prolific playwrights. Some of Simon's other Broadway hits include "California Suite", "The Odd Couple", "Barefoot in the park", "Last of the Red Hot Lovers", "Prisoner of Second Avenue", "The Sunshine Boys", and many others.

Simon's "B-B" trilogy includes "Brighton Beach Memoirs", "Biloxi Blues", and the final chapter, "Broadway Bound". "Brighton Beach Memoirs", the first of the coming-of-age plays about Eugene Morris Jerome, opened on Broadway in 1983, and was released later as a major motion picture. In 1985, "Biloxi Blues" took Eugene to boot camp (circa 1942), won the Tony Award for Best Play, and also became a feature film. "Broadway Bound" opened in 1986, bringing that long-anticipated "respect" to Simon after 25 years as a playwright.

In "Broadway Bound" the year is 1948, Eugene and his brother Stanley are back home in Brooklyn on the verge of becoming a professional comedy writing team. Their parents' marriage is dissolving. Aunt Blanche has married rich and the Trotskyite grandpa has come to live with them. It is "Upstairs/Downstairs" American style.

Barbara Tarbuck stars in the coveted role of the mother, which she played in "Brighton Beach Memoirs" on Broadway. The supporting cast is headed by Kurt Deutsch as Eugene Morris Jerome. Kurt comes to this national company directly from the Broadway production of "Broadway Bound". Others in the cast include Madison Arnold, Brian Drillinger, Ronny Graham and Lauren Klein.

"Broadway Bound" is the product of one of the most successful collaborations in theatre history: Neil Simon, America's "playwright laureate", Gene Saks, Director of six Simon plays, and Emmanuel Azenberg, producer of Simon's plays since 1972.

"Broadway Bound" is simply superb Simon, and it is pure family entertainment.
